ALL-AMERICA TRADITION

1 :: Playing in the nation's toughest conference, the ACC, Terrapin women's soccer players have the opportunity to excel at the highest level of college soccer. With that excellence comes national recognition. Overall, 12 former Terps have earned 17 All-America accolades during the past 20 seasons. Mallory Mahar was the last player to be named an All-American, earning a third-team selection in 2004. Kelly Amonte (insert photo) was the first, being named a second team NSCAA All-American in 1993.

GOALKEEPING LEGACY

2 :: One of the trademarks of Maryland women's soccer throughout its history has been excellent defense, highlighted by outstanding goalkeepers. Missy Price was an All-Region honoree in 1996 before passing the goalkeeping reins to Riki-Ann Serrins, who was a two-time All-ACC performer. Ali Wolff (insert photo) earned second team All-Mid-Atlantic Region honors from the NSCAA in 2001 and still holds the school record for career shutouts. Nikki Resnick was a two-time first team All-ACC selection and helped lead the Terps to the NCAA's Sweet 16 in 2004. Yewande Balogun is continuing the tradition for the Terps and was a Soccer Buzz Freshman All-American in 2007.

NCAA TOURNAMENT TESTED

3 :: Since 1995, the Terrapins have made nine NCAA tournament appearances, advancing past the first round on six occasions. The last Maryland team to reach the national tournament was the 2004 squad. The Terps defeated Loyola (Md.) 3-0 in the first round, setting up a meeting with overall No. 2-seed Penn State on their home field in the second round. The Terps pulled off the historic upset, knocking off the Nittany Lions, 1-0, on Mallory Mahar's goal in the 33rd minute. Nikki Resnick stopped 10 Penn State shots to make the lead hold up, sending the Terps to the Sweet 16.

BEST OF THE BEST

4 :: Soccer fans know that you can't just look at the stat sheet to tell who is the best player on the field. That's certainly true of arguably the best player to lace up her boots for the Terps - Erin Taylor. The midfielder from Jupiter, Fla., scored only 12 goals in her four seasons in College Park, but she was a dominating defender and is the only NSCAA first team All-American in Terrapin history.

PROLIFIC SCORERS

5 :: Maryland soccer isn't all defense though. Historically, the Terps have boasted a prolific offense. Keri Sarver (right) and Emmy Harbo (insert bottom left) were the most prolific duo in Maryland history, combining for 295 points on 117 goals and 61 assists from 1995-98.

PLAYING THE BEST

6 :: Maryland traditionally plays one of the toughest schedules in the nation. Since 1999, Maryland has defeated 20 top-25 teams, including two last season. But it might have been the 1-1 tie at No. 2 North Carolina on Nov. 1, 2001 that proved to the world that Terrapin soccer had arrived.

SEASON OUTLOOK

DEPTH AND TALENT KEYS TO TERPS' SUCCESS IN 2008

The 2008 season is one that could prove to be a turning point in the history of the University of Maryland's women's soccer program.

"We have been waiting for pre-season since the end of 2007," says fourth-year head coach Brian Pensky. "Everyone returning knows how good we can be. Our defense has always been a strength and we expect that to continue. With the combination of our returning players and our incoming freshmen, we will be much-improved in the attacking end of the field."

Pensky's confidence could stem from one glance at his roster, which boasts talent, skill and, perhaps most importantly, depth.

"Our depth will be significantly better this fall," says Pensky. "We are going to have some fabulous competition for a number of positions on the field. For players, this is a bit scary, however, we know the competition will bring out the best in each individual."

How all of those factors will add up at the end of the season is anyone's guess, but Pensky knows what he expects from his squad this year. "We expect to surprise people this fall. There is no reason why we should not be back in the ACC and NCAA Tournaments. We have the talent and depth - now it's all of our jobs to produce."

Here's a quick look at the 2008 Terps by position:

FORWARDS/WINGERS

Depth at forward has been an issue for the Terps in recent years, but Pensky and his coaching staff have addressed that concern through some position changes and aggressive recruiting.

Returning for Maryland at the forward position is senior Kaila Sciascia, who had a tremendous off-season and seems to have found a new "killer instinct" for finishing her shots. Sophomore Annesia Faulkner showed a lot of skill and tenacity during her initial season as a Terp and is expected to be an even greater contributor in her second season. Her blue-collar work-rate will certainly factor in the Terps' success.

Lauren Gamble is a fifth-year senior who will be called upon to contribute as she returns from ACL surgery.

Juniors Maureen Dowling and Stephanie MacCormack are each moving to forward for this season. Dowling spent her first two seasons as a wide midfielder, while MacCormack played as a wide back last year. They both can impact a game immediately - Dowling with her pace and left foot; and MacCormack with her energy and intensity.

The freshmen attacking players – Ashley Grove, Lydia Hastings, Danielle Schulman, Jasmyne Spencer and Dominique Vellutato – give the Terps a boost of talent and depth. They also give Pensky some flexibility, as this group is capable of contributing at multiple positions. More specifically, the versatility of Skyy Anderson and Sade Ayinde may prove to be attractive options in the Terps' attack.

Headlining this freshmen attacking group is Hastings, who enrolled at Maryland this past January and was with the team during its spring season. She has also been invited to the past three US U18 National Training Camps and was the team's leading scorer during its European Tour in June. Most recently, Hastings was invited into a US U20 National Camp. Ayinde has also participated in multiple U18 training camps as both a forward and defender. Ayinde and Anderson were listed as a Top 50 and 100 recruit, respectively, by Soccer Buzz.

"Returning Kaila, Annesia, Lauren, Mo and Steph from last year is a real plus," says Pensky. "And the addition of the freshmen should give us the ability to be a fast-paced, high-pressuring attacking team. This is the area of the field where we'll have the most competition for playing time - and the players who create and score goals with the most consistency will receive the most playing time - simple as that."

Mary Casey

Freshman forward Ariel Nehemiah will most likely redshirt this fall due to a broken ankle suffered in April.

CENTRAL MIDFIELD

The offensive center midfield position was a big question mark (due to injury and inexperience) for the Terps as they headed into the 2007 season. But that's certainly not the case in 2008. Starting center midfielders Nataly Arias and Caitlin McDowell return and are expected to improve from last year, which saw them combine for six goals and four assists for 16 points.

Add to that mix, the return of Molly Dreska, who missed the entire 2007 season due to injury. Before suffering a knee injury near the end of the 2006 season, Dreska was one of the ACC's top freshmen. Now fully recovered, she is prepared to push for playing time and make an impact for the Terps.

Shelley McDuff, who started all 36 games the last two seasons, anchored the defensive center midfield spot, but has now graduated. Looking to replace her is a quartet of newcomers, some of who could also find roles in other midfield spots. Megan Watson, a junior transfer from the University of Pittsburgh, started 31 games in her two seasons as a Panther. The versatile Becky Kaplan is one of the top 75 recruits in the country according to Soccer Buzz; while skillful Amy O'Sullivan and Kristen McAfee will also compete for prominent roles in central midfield.

"We feel great about our central midfield," says Pensky. "We have experience in Nat, Caitlin, Molly and Megan; and exciting young talent in Theisen, Kaplan, O'Sullivan and McAfee. We have lots of options."

DEFENSE

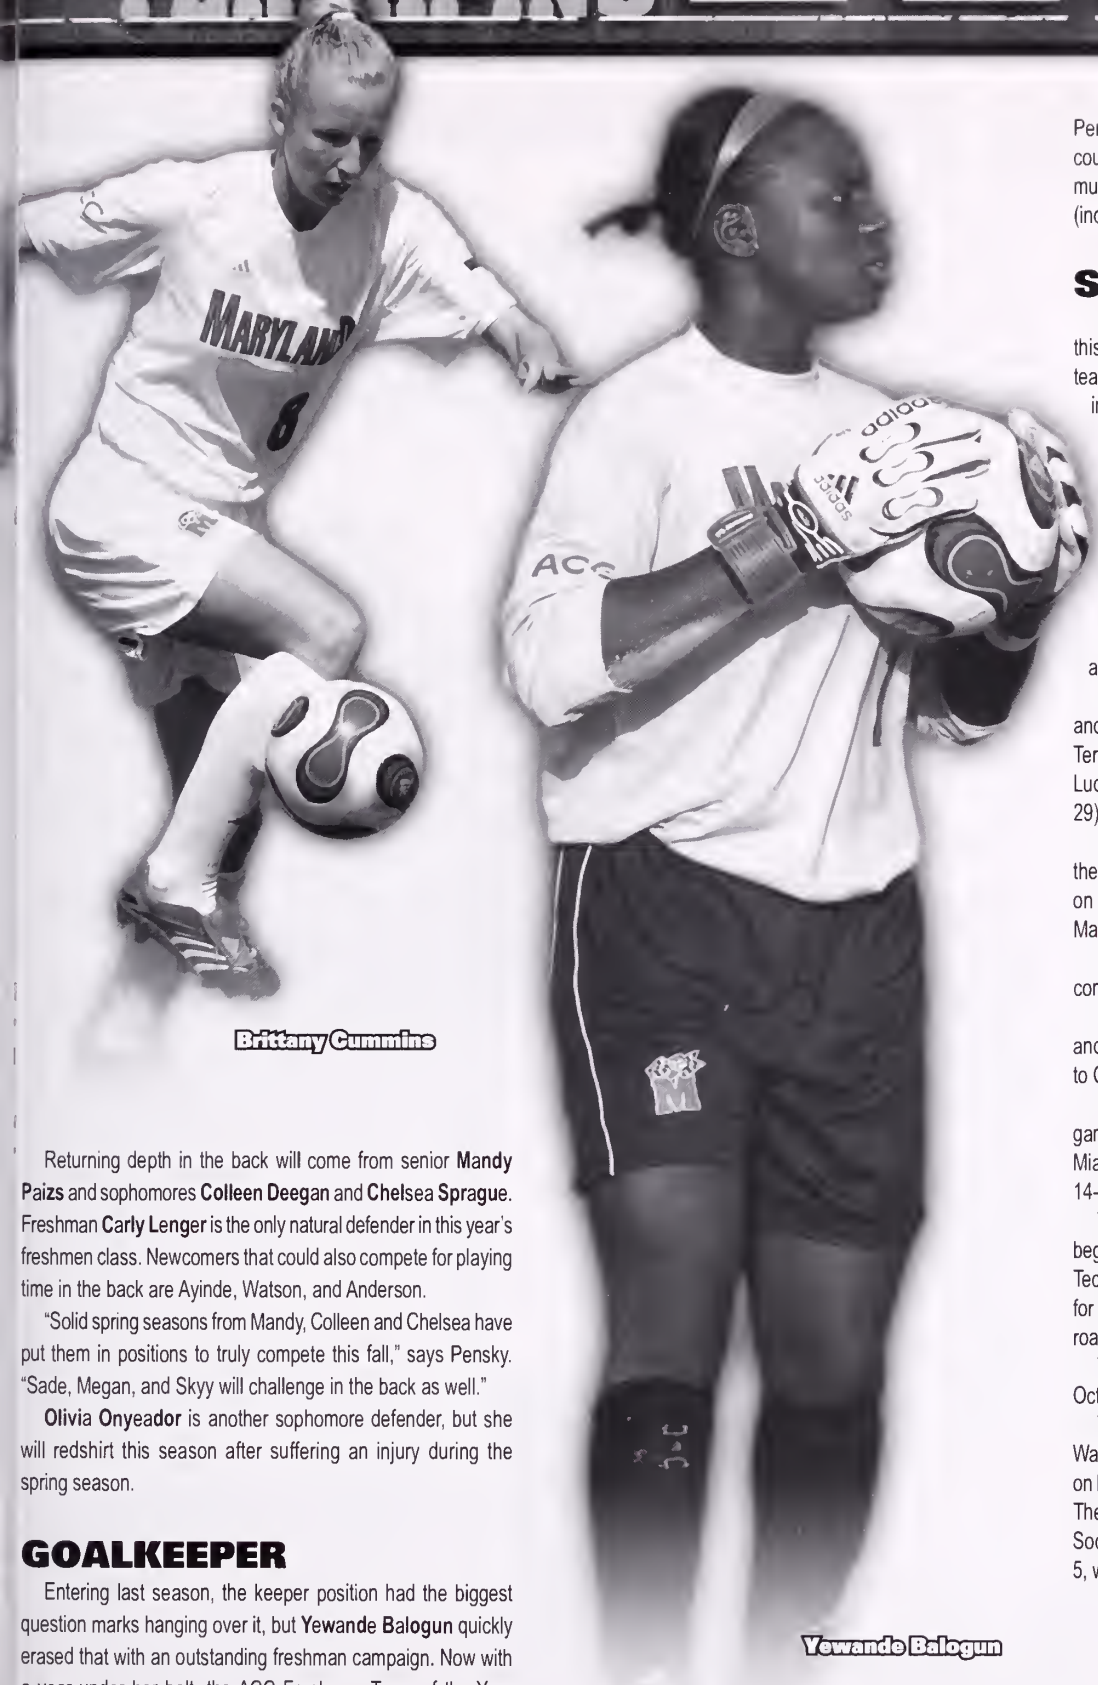
The only loss from the 2007 backline is Ashly Kennedy, who started every game during her Terrapin career. But the rest of Maryland's defense returns intact – Mallory Baker, Aimee Bresani, Brittany Cummins and Mary Casey. This group gives Pensky a veteran presence in the backline, which will allow his team to push forward in the offensive third.

"We return quality players from last year's back line," says Pensky. "Mary, Aimee, Brittany and Mallory are all poised to continue the Maryland tradition of keeping the ball out of the back of the net."

Casey, who was recruited as a goalkeeper and will be the team's backup at that position, has matured into one of the best defenders in the ACC, which is widely regarded as the nation's top women's soccer conference.



Brittany Cummins

Yewande Balogun

Returning depth in the back will come from senior Mandy Paizs and sophomores Colleen Deegan and Chelsea Sprague. Freshman Carly Lenger is the only natural defender in this year's freshmen class. Newcomers that could also compete for playing time in the back are Ayinde, Watson, and Anderson.

"Solid spring seasons from Mandy, Colleen and Chelsea have put them in positions to truly compete this fall," says Pensky. "Sade, Megan, and Skyy will challenge in the back as well."

Olivia Onyeador is another sophomore defender, but she will redshirt this season after suffering an injury during the spring season.

GOALKEEPER

Entering last season, the keeper position had the biggest question marks hanging over it, but Yewande Balogun quickly erased that with an outstanding freshman campaign. Now with a year under her belt, the ACC Freshmen Team of the Year GK will be able to combine experience with her unbelievable natural ability.

Balogun did miss the final three games of last season with a foot injury, but she has recovered from that and will be between the pipes when the Terps open their season.

"Yewande will be our starting goalkeeper this fall," says Pensky. "Her tactical growth has been tremendous over the course of this year, and her ability to lead in the back will be much-improved now that she is a sophomore, and has 21 starts (including the spring season) under her belt."

SCHEDULE

The Terps will once again face a very challenging schedule this season, including nine regular-season matches against teams that competed in last season's NCAA Championships, including 2007 national runner-up Florida State.

"Including preseason games, we will play 11 teams that were in the NCAA Tournament last fall," says Pensky. "And we are happy to be home for 13 of our 20 games – which is something we need to embrace, taking advantage of playing at home on Ludwig Field.

"As I've said, we expect to be in the ACC and NCAA Tournaments, and this schedule should prepare us not only to make those tournaments, but to succeed in them, as well."

After hosting a preseason scrimmages against Georgetown and West Virginia, which were also 2007 tournament teams, the Terps open the 2008 season with five straight home games at Ludwig Field against George Mason (Aug. 23), Bucknell (Aug. 29), Elon (Aug. 31), American (Sept. 5) and Temple (Sept. 7).

Maryland hits the road and heads to Charlottesville, Va., for the Virginia Soccer Classic. There the Terps will face Dartmouth on Sept. 12 and 2007 NCAA tournament participant William & Mary on Sept. 14.

Maryland then returns to College Park for its final non-conference game a Sept. 21 meeting with Mount St. Mary's.

The ACC schedule kicks off with a trip down "Tobacco Road" and a Sept. 25 game at Wake Forest. The Terps then head East to Chapel Hill, N.C., to tackle North Carolina on Sept. 28.

From there Maryland returns home for four consecutive games in College Park. The Terps host the Seminoles (Oct. 2), Miami (Oct. 5), Duke (Oct. 12) and Virginia (Oct. 16) over the 14-day home stand.

The Terps then face three-straight road conference games beginning with a trip to Blacksburg, Va., for a meeting with Virginia Tech on Oct. 19. Maryland will head North to Chestnut Hill, Mass., for an Oct. 23 meeting with Boston College, then wraps up its road schedule on Oct. 26 at NC State.

The 2008 regular season concludes with "Senior Day" on October 30 against Clemson.

The ACC Tournament will be held on Nov. 5-9 in Cary, N.C., at WakeMed Soccer Park. The 2008 NCAA Tournament will begin on Nov. 14 with the first three rounds being held at campus sites. The 2008 College Cup is being hosted by NC State at WakeMed Soccer Park in Cary, N.C. The semifinals are set for December 5, with the finals taking place on Dec. 7.

HEAD COACH BRIAN PENSKY

FOURTH SEASON AT MARYLAND • EMORY '91

Brian Pensky is in his fourth season as the head coach of the Maryland women's soccer program and has the Terps poised to return to the NCAA Tournament.

Pensky was hired as Maryland's head coach on May 18, 2005 after serving as an assistant coach with the Maryland men's soccer team for three years, helping them to College Cup appearances every season.

This season, Pensky landed his second-straight Top 20 recruiting class, according to Soccer Buzz. The class, which checked in at No. 14 nationally, the second-highest ranking ever for a Terps' recruiting class, and second in the Mid-Atlantic region is anchored by four top 150 players. Sade Ayinde is ranked 34th, while Becky Kaplan, Skyy Anderson and Lydia Hastings are also among the top 150. Ayinde and Hasting have both been invited to several U.S. U18 camps and have excelled. Hastings was the U.S.'s leading scorer with three goals at the U18 Women's National Team Foreign Training Camp in Europe.

The 2007 season was one of improvement for Pensky's Terps as Maryland battled one of the nation's toughest schedules. Three times in 2007 the Terps dropped a decision in overtime to a nationally-ranked opponent, showing that Maryland is capable of competing with the nation's elite. The Terrapins were defined by a tenacious defense that allowed just 20 goals on the year despite losing ACC All-Freshman team goalkeeper Yewande Balogun to injury with three games remaining in the campaign.

During his first two seasons with the women's soccer team, Pensky's squads have been ravaged by injuries, but his teams have consistently been one of the toughest defensive teams in the country. The Terps were second in the ACC, the nation's toughest women's soccer conference, in goals against in 2006.

In the last two seasons, Pensky's squad continued one of the legacies of the program – knocking off top-10 teams. In seven of the last eight seasons the Terps have defeated a team ranked in the top 10. In 2005, Maryland defeated No. 8 Boston College, 2-1, in the regular-season finale to secure a trip to the ACC Tournament. Last season saw Maryland defeat 10th-ranked Tennessee, 1-0, in the season opener. The Terps also defeated No. 11 Virginia 2-0 in their final home contest of 2006.

In addition, Pensky helped mentor two-time first team All-ACC goalkeeper Nikki Resnick and 2005 All-ACC midfielder Kimmy Francis. Resnick finished her career second on Maryland's career lists in saves (353) and shutouts (19.0), while Francis is third in career points (67), sixth in career goals (22) and fourth in career assists (23).

Pensky, who has served as a men's and women's assistant coach at the collegiate level, helped guide the Terrapin men's soccer team to 57 wins during his three seasons on the staff, including the ACC Tournament title in 2002 and regular season crown in 2003. In 2004, CollegeSoccerNews.com named Pensky one of the top assistant coaches in the nation.

Prior to working under Sasho Cirovski for three seasons, where he was involved in all facets of the program, Pensky was an assistant at Loyola College, where he helped the Greyhound women's team win the 2001 MAAC Conference Tournament and earn a bid to the NCAA Tournament in his one season with the program.

He came to Loyola after spending three years as an assistant coach in George Washington's women's soccer program.

Pensky has also been involved with the Maryland girls' Olympic Development Program team since 1997. He served as an assistant coach for the Under-15 team from 1999-2000, helping that squad to the 1999 Region I championship and a national runner-up finish in 2000.

In the spring of 2000, he took over as head coach of the U16 team and led it to a regional championship. In 2001, he worked with the U16 ODP team and finished as the regional runner-up. Pensky spent the summer of 2001 coaching the W-League's Maryland Pride, which reached the Final Four and won the Eastern Conference championship.

He began his coaching career at the Bullis School in Potomac, Md., where he later went on to teach and eventually piloted the boys' soccer team from 1996-98. While at the Bullis School, he was named 1997 High School Coach of the Year by the Maryland Ledger and paced the 18-1-1 IAC champions to a No. 13 ranking in the nation.

In addition to his college and high school coaching experience, Pensky coached the Bethesda Soccer Club from 1991-99.

Pensky holds a bachelor's degree in economics from Emory University, as well as an "A" license from the United States Soccer Federation, an NSCAA Premier and NSCAA goalkeeping diploma.

Pensky and his wife, Abby, have three children, boy-girl twins Will and Alex, who are six, and Ben, who turned four in March. The Pensky family resides in Kensington, Md.

IN EACH OF PENSKY'S THREE SEASONS WITH THE MARYLAND MEN'S TEAM, THE TERPS REACHED THE SEMIFINALS OF THE COLLEGE CUP.

JONATHAN MORGAN

ASSISTANT COACH

Rowan '96
Second year at Maryland

Jonathan Morgan, one of the nation's top assistant soccer coaches, returns for his sophomore season as an assistant coach at the University of Maryland.

The Terps showed signs of improvement on the field in Morgan's first season and off the field as the Terps' 2008 recruiting class was ranked No. 14 in the nation, according to Soccer Buzz.

Prior to coming to Maryland, Morgan spent two seasons as an assistant coach at Ohio State. At Ohio State, Morgan was primarily responsible for coordinating the offensive attack and recruiting. Under Morgan's tutelage the Buckeyes finished third in the Big Ten in points per game with a 4.84 ppg average. The 2006 Buckeyes boasted the Big Ten conference's statistical individual leader in goals, goals per game, points per game, assists and assists per game.

Prior to coaching at Ohio State, Morgan spent three seasons as a volunteer coach at Rutgers, where he helped the Scarlet Knights to postseason appearances in 2002, '03 and '04.

A native of Dover, Del., Morgan was a four-year starter at Rowan College in Glassboro, N.J., serving as team captain his senior season with the Profs. After he finished his playing career, he broke into the college coaching ranks with his alma mater in 1995, helping the Rowan men's team to a 17-1 mark and an appearance in the second round of the NCAA Tournament.

He has also been involved with the Olympic Development Programs in Delaware and New Jersey, leading the New Jersey ODP girl's U-17 team to the Region 1 ODP championship in 2001. The team earned a trip to the ODP National championships and placed third.

A USSF "B" licensed and KNVB Dutch Certificate coach, Morgan has served as a member of the United States Youth Soccer Association (USYSA) Region 1 staff. He graduated from Rowan in 1996 with a bachelor's degree in law/justice.

LAURIE PELLS

ASSISTANT COACH

Georgian Court College '98
Second year at Maryland

One of the nation's top goalkeeping coaches, Laurie Pells joined the Maryland women's soccer program on April 27, 2007 and is now in her second season in College Park.

In her first season with the Terps, Pells was instrumental in helping bring along freshman Yewande Balogun, who earned All-ACC Freshman team honors and Freshman All-America honors by Soccer Buzz. But Balogun was injured in the Terps' 15th game of the season and Pells helped sophomore Mary Casey, a one-time top goalkeeping prospect who had played much of the past two seasons as a defender, make the transition back into the goal, which included a 2-0 shutout of NC State in the season finale.

Pells came to Maryland after spending the previous six years as an assistant coach at Clemson. During that time, the Lady Tigers reached the NCAA tournament each year, including the 2006 Elite Eight and the 2001 Sweet 16 and a No. 11 final ranking.

Clemson's defense was outstanding while Pells coached the goalkeepers. During her six seasons there, Clemson registered 53 team shutouts and allowed just over one goal per match.

Prior to coaching at Clemson, Pells was an assistant coach at the College of New Jersey for three years. While there, the Lions won the 2000 NCAA Division III National Championship. The College of New Jersey was a semifinalist in 1999 and finalist in 1998 at the NCAA Division III Tournament.

Pells graduated from Georgian Court College (Lakewood, N.J.) with a B.A. degree in elementary education and psychology in 1998. At Georgian Court College, she was a starting goalkeeper for four seasons and was a three-time NSCAA All-America goalkeeper. While at Georgian Court College, she led her team to the NAIA Final Four in 1994 and 1995 and the quarterfinals in 1997. In her senior season in 1997, the two-time team captain was selected as one of the top 16 players in the nation by being named to the Umbro Select Elite 16.

During her time at GCC, she set the NSCAA national record with 57 career shutouts as a goalkeeper and was named conference player of the year as a senior. Pells was also named the New Jersey Woman of the Year after her sophomore season.

Pells graduated with a master's degree from the College of New Jersey in the spring of 2001 from the School of Counseling.

Pells played two years in the W-League with the Delaware Genies. Pells was drafted by the Philadelphia Charge in the Women's United Soccer Association (WUSA) Professional League and played one season in the summer of 2001.

Pells is a director for former US National Team coach Tony DiCicco with SoccerPlus Goalkeeper Camps. She is a member of the ODP Region I coaching staff.

2007 REVIEW NOTEBOOK

IMPROVEMENT SHOWS ON THE FIELD EVEN AS INJURIES IMPACT SQUAD

A QUICK LOOK AT 2007

- The 2007 Terrapin women's soccer team showed the college soccer community that the Terps will be a force to be reckoned with in the future ... and that the future could begin in 2008.
- Playing one of the nation's toughest schedule Maryland battled some of the top teams in the country and took three top 15 teams into overtime before losing the match. The Terps also dropped a one-goal decision at Miami, which was an NCAA tournament team in 2007.
- Freshman goalkeeper Yewande Balogun had a remarkable firsrt season and was rewarded with as spot on the All-ACC freshman team. She finished third in the conference in saves per game (4.13) and was fourth in goals against average (0.84) and third in shutouts per game (0.33). She made a season-high nine save at Miami in a 1-0 defeat and became the first Terrapin goalkeeper to register an assist since 1998 with a helper in the 2-0 win over Lehigh on Sept. 30.
- The injury bug bit the Terps again in 2007, marking the fourth consecutive season that Maryland has had significant injury problems. Sophomore midfielder Molly Dreska was lost for the year due to a knee injury suffered during the summer. Balogun started the first 15 games of the year, but suffered a broken foot at Duke and missed the final three games of the year. Sophomore defender/goalkeeper Mary Casey filled in admirably between the pipes, but battled injury issues herself earlier in the season. Casey, arguably the team's best defender, missed the North Carolina game due to an injury sustained late in the match against Wake Forest. The short-handed Terps took the 12th-ranked Tar Heels into overtime, but eventually fell by a 2-1 score.
- The 2007 season also saw the return of Nataly Arias, who missed the entire 2006 season due to a knee injury. The redshirt-junior showed no ill effects from her time away and led the Terps in points (11) and goals (5).

Nataly Arias

- 2007 was the final season for four Terrapin seniors. Ashly Kennedy was a two-time team captain that earned numerous freshman accolades in 2003. Melissa Hornfeck was a two-time junior college player of the year before finishing her final two seasons as a Terp. Shelley McDuff and Kelly Rozumalski shared team captain duties with Kennedy in 2007, but will best be remembered for their contributions on the 2004 squad that advanced to the NCAA tournament Sweet 16.

BALOGUN EARNS FRESHMAN HONORS

- Goalkeeper Yewande Balogun was named to the All-ACC freshman team and picked up a pair of additional honors by Soccer Buzz.
- Balogun was named a third team freshman All-American by Soccer Buzz. The national women's soccer website also named Balogun to its Mid-Atlantic all-freshman team.

PLAYING OVERTIME

- The 0-0 tie with Eastern Kentucky marked the third-straight home opener that has ended in a scoreless tie. In 2005 and 2006 the Terps played to a 0-0 draw against Towson.
- Maryland played five overtime games last season, going 0-1-4 in those matches. All four ties ended in 0-0 finishes, tying the 2006 Michigan Wolverines for the most 0-0 ties in a season in NCAA history.
- During the past four seasons, Maryland has played 27 overtime games (nearly 40% of its total games) with a record of 4-9-14 in those games.
- The Terps have played eight overtime matches this season tying the program record for overtime games in a season. Maryland is 1-4-3 in OT this year. The 2004 team also played in eight overtime contests, going 2-2-4.

OFFENSIVE DEFENSE

- Maryland defenders - Brittany Cummins, Mary Casey, Ashly Kennedy and Mallory Baker - all tallied points for the Terps last season. Kennedy had two goals and an assist and tied for third on the team with five points. Casey had a goal and two assists and finished sixth in points with four. Cummins had a pair of assistsm, whule Baker finished the year with one. Goalkeeper Yewande Balogun added her name to Maryland's list of defensive players with points in the 2-0 win over Lehigh on Sept. 30. She became the first Terrapin goalkeeper since 1998 to assist on a goal. The only defensive regular to not have a point last season was freshman Olivia Onyeador, but she only moved into the starting line-up regularly when Balogun broke her foot in the 15th game of the season. Casey then moved to keeper, opening up a center back spot for Onyeador.

Caitlin McDowell

IMPACT FRESHMEN

- Maryland played 10 freshmen in 2007, including six who started matches.
- Goalkeeper Yewande Balogun logged 1392 minutes for the Terps in their first 15 games and posted a 0.84 GAA with five shutouts to her credit. Balogun will miss the final three games due to a broken foot suffered in the Virginia match.
- Mallory Baker and Caitlin McDowell each picked up their first collegiate assists in the 2-1 win over Fairleigh Dickinson. Baker started every game last season for Maryland, while McDowell played in all 18 games with 17 starts.
- Annesia Faulkner was been a spark off the bench for the Terps, but earned her first collegiate start in the team's ACC opener at No. 14 Clemson. She earned her first career point with an assist on Kelly Rozumalski's goal in 2-2 tie at Duke.
- Olivia Onyeador made her first career start against No. 12 North Carolina. She played a tremendous match at the right back spot, filling in for the injured Mary Casey. She moved back into the starting line-up against Virginia Tech when Casey replaced Balogun in goal.

2007 GAME RECAPS

GAME 1 - AUG. 31

EASTERN KENTUCKY . . . 0 (2OT)
MARYLAND. . . . . 0

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - The match resembled a shooting gallery at times, but the result was a 0-0 tie for the University of Maryland's women's soccer team as it fired off 55 shots to set a new Ludwig Field record in its 2007 season opener against Eastern Kentucky at Ludwig Field on Friday night.

"I've never been a part of a game where one team takes 55 shots," said Maryland head coach Brian Pensky. "Our kids worked very hard tonight and they deserve better than a 0-0 result. But we're a resilient group and we will bounce back on Sunday against Fairleigh Dickinson."

The Terps got off six shots in the first 11 minutes of the match, but it was midfielder Emily Maynard's 20-yard blast in the 16th minute that proved to be Maryland's first good scoring chance. The sophomore's shot from just outside the 18-yard box skimmed over the top of the crossbar by mere inches.

Redshirt junior Nataly Arias had the Terps' next great chance in the 36th minute when she drove a header off a cross from sophomore Brittany Cummins toward the Colonel's net, but freshman goalkeeper Stephanie Lynch made one of her 19 saves to preserve the scoreless tie.

The closest Maryland came to scoring came just minutes after halftime when Arias sent a long pass over the top of the EKU defense to a streaking Kaila Sciascia. The junior forward used a burst of speed to separate from defenders and punched a shot past Lynch, but the ball sailed too far and hit the left post.

Maryland looked to have a chance to end the game in the 87th minute when Sciascia and Arias hooked up again for a scoring opportunity. This time it was Sciascia setting up Arias with a corner kick from the right corner to the far post where Arias got a head on the ball sending it at the Colonel net. But luck was not on the Terps' side again as the ball sailed wide of its target.

Arias, who was making her first appearance since 2005 after missing all of 2006 due to injury, almost won the game again in the 91st minute with a long shot from 20 yards, but it too just went over the crossbar.

Senior forward Kelly Rozumalski was stifled on her bid to end the game in the 95th minute by Lynch's 16th save of the game. Sciascia crossed a low ball from the left side to the middle of the field at the 12 yard mark where Rozumalski made a run to one-time the ball into the heart of the Colonel net, but Lynch was perfectly positioned for the stop.

Maryland's last great chance to finish the game came in the 110th minute of play on a corner kick from junior midfielder Aimee Bresani. Bresani sent the ball from the right corner to the middle of the six-yard box, where sophomore defender Mary Casey got a clean header on the ball, but could not get it down and it went over the top of the goal.

Freshman goalkeeper Yewande Balogun made her collegiate debut in the tie, finishing the match with three saves. Overall seven freshmen made their collegiate debuts for the Terps, including Mallory Baker who started on defense.

Lynch's 19 saves also set a new Ludwig Field record, besting the previous record of 14 set by former Terp Nikki Resnick on two occasions.

FAIRLEIGH DICKINSON . . . . . 1
MARYLAND. . . . . 2

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - Sophomore Mary Casey capped a furious two-minute stretch in the second half for the University of Maryland women's soccer team with an assist and the game-winning goal to propel the Terps to a 2-1 victory over Fairleigh Dickinson Sunday night at Ludwig Field.

"We had a number of kids come up big tonight, and collectively it was a terrific team win," said coach Brian Pensky. "We dug ourselves a hole early on, and for a while there it appeared as if we were headed for another evening like Friday. But our players kept plugging away, and eventually we were rewarded with a couple of goals."

For a while it looked as if the Knights may pull-off the upset when they took a 1-0 lead in the fifth minute. Amanda Wheeler lobbed a shot at the Terrapin goal and freshman goalkeeper Yewande Balogun was able to tip the ball up and away from the net, but it hit the crossbar and bounced back into the field of play right to the feet of Emma Howes who put the shot away for the 1-0 lead. The Knights only managed three shots in the match with two coming on the scoring play.

With the 1-0 lead, FDU packed in its defense and tried to hold on, but the 85 minutes proved to be too much time to maintain the advantage.

That 1-0 lead would hold up until the 61st minute. That's when the Terps, who totaled nine corner kicks in the game, converted on a corner kick from the left side to tie the score. Freshman Caitlin McDowell started the play, sending the corner kick high into the box. The ball bounced off of Casey and freshman defender Mallory Baker before senior forward Kelly Rozumalski got a clean header off that beat Knight goalkeeper Rachel Dernco into the left side of the goal.

It would take less than two minutes for Maryland, which was scoreless in its first 170 minutes of the season, to pick up another score to take the lead. Once again the goal came off of a corner kick from McDowell from the left side. This time it was Rozumalski that got a head on the ball, but it popped up in the air and landed at the feet of Casey near the 12-yard mark. The defender from Centreville, Va., one-timed the shot into the right side of the net for her first collegiate goal.

A pair of sophomore midfielders, Maureen Dowling and Amanda Paizs, had outstanding games for the Terps creating scoring opportunities and not allowing the Knight defense to maintain possession.

The Terrapins followed up Friday night's record-setting 55-shot performance with another 24 shots vs. FDU. Rozumalski and McDowell led Maryland with four shots apiece. Dernico finished the game with eight saves for the Knights.

NO. 13 USC. . . . . 2
MARYLAND. . . . . 1 (OT)

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. - For 80 minutes it looked as if the University of Maryland women's soccer team was going to pull off another neutral-site upset of a top-15 team, but No. 13 USC emerged from the first game of the Hoosier Classic in Bloomington, Ind., with a 2-1 overtime victory.

The Terps' plan of solid defense coupled with an opportunistic offense worked to perfection early on and saw Maryland jump out to a 1-0 lead in the 30th minute. Redshirt junior Nataly Arias scored her first goal since September 30, 2005, when she finished a point-blank shot that carried past Trojan goalkeeper Brittany Massaro. The ball was served in by sophomore Brittany Cummins who picked up her second career assist on the play.

Maryland maintained its 1-0 lead for 50 minutes, but a relentless USC offense finally broke through in the 80th minute. Lauren Brown capitalized on a Maryland defensive miscue to score her second goal of the season and knot the game at 1-1.

The game headed into overtime and the Women of Troy needed only one shot to finish the game and take away the 2-1 victory. USC's Alyssa Davis collected a loose ball in the Maryland defensive third and finished it inside the far post for the game-winning goal.

"It is a disappointing final score," said Maryland head coach Brian Pensky, "but our players battled so hard, and we as coaches are extremely proud of that. Our challenge now is simple, regroup and prepare for Loyola Marymount on Sunday, and we know our players will do just that."

LOYOLA MARYMOUNT . . . . . 0

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. - From a relentless offense to a stifling defense, the University of Maryland women's soccer team as a whole turned in a dominating performance in its 3-0 victory over Loyola Marymount at the Hoosier Classic in Bloomington, Ind., Sunday afternoon.

"This is a great win," said Terrapin head coach Brian Pensky. "We knew that both teams were going to be desperate today; and that was a good LMU team - our kids just played well, simple as that. Today was our most complete performance of the season."

The game was scoreless for the first half of play, but the Terps (2-1-1) showed the makings of a team to be reckoned with by outpacing the Lions (0-3-1) in possession, shots and corner kicks in the opening 45 minutes.

The scoring troubles that have haunted Maryland during the past two seasons were not a problem against LMU as the offense broke through with three unanswered goals in the second half.

Freshman forward Kylie Ricker, who earned her first collegiate start in the match, opened the scoring for Maryland in the 57th minute by heading in a corner kick that was sent into the box by fellow freshman Caitlin McDowell. For Ricker, the score marked her first collegiate goal, while McDowell picked up her second assists on the season.

The Terps picked up an insurance goal less than two minutes later when a foul by a Lion player gave Maryland a free kick from about 40 yards out. Normally that would be an ideal spot to serve the ball in for an attacking player, but co-captain Ashly Kennedy had other ideas. The senior defender took the free kick and laced it into the left side of the Lions' net past goalkeeper Joslyn Slovek.

Aimee Bresani scored the third goal of the game for the Terps in the 81st minute on a brilliant individual effort. The junior, who has been moved from defense where she played her first two collegiate seasons to forward, dribbled past a LMU defender and beat back-up keeper Eugenia Miranda with a shot into the lower left corner of the goal.

Overall, Maryland outshot Loyola Marymount 19-4 and took nine corner kicks to the Lions' one. Ricker led the way with three shots for the Terrapins, with 13 Terps registering shots.

Freshman goalkeeper Yewande Balogun picked up the victory and her second career shutout for the Terps, but did not have to register a save in the match.

DARTMOUTH . . . . . .0 (2OT)
MARYLAND. . . . . 1

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - The match went 110 minutes, but in the end it only took seconds for Nataly Arias to head in a corner kick from Kaila Sciascia for the University of Maryland women' soccer team to pull out a hard-fought 1-0 victory over Dartmouth Friday night at Ludwig Field.

For Terps' head coach Brian Pensky the win, and the way Maryland won, summed up who the Terrapins are. "We're a team that is going to scratch and claw for every inch and tonight was an example of that. This was a big time team win. The positive energy from our bench was outstanding and the play from our reserves got us over the top."

A quick look at the box score won't tell the whole story of the Terps' game-winning goal, which would never have happened without an outstanding effort from sophomore Maureen Dowling. The sophomore from Massapequa, N.Y., pushed the ball into the far left side of the Big Green defensive zone and worked to earn the corner kick that led to Arias' header.

"Maureen [Dowling], Emily [Maynard] and Kailia [Sciascia] all came off the bench to directly contribute to this win," said Pensky. "And once again, Nataly [Arias] proved how great she is in the air."

Arias, a redshirt junior who missed all of last season due to injury, finished a brilliant serve from Sciascia with a clean header into the left center of the Dartmouth net. For Arias the goal marked her third career game-winner and the first since September 30, 2005.

The game was evenly played through the first 45 minutes, but the Terps came out from halftime with good energy and pushed the pace, challenging the Big Green defense.

Freshman Caitlin McDowell nearly put away her first collegiate goal in the 53rd minute, but Dartmouth goalkeeper Laurel Peaks was able to get her fingertips on the shot and the ball grazed the crossbar and went over the goal.

Peaks was saved again by the crossbar in the 68th minute when Arias corralled a loose ball facing away from the Big Green goal near the top of the 18-yard box. With the ball at her feet for less than a second, Arias turned and one-timed a shot, hoping to catch Peaks off guard, but Peaks was able to get a piece of the shot and the ball again went off the crossbar, setting up one of Maryland's seven corner kicks.

Despite being out-shot 19-7 in regulation, Dartmouth came out in the first overtime and controlled the tempo and put pressure on the Terrapin defense. But Maryland's defense proved to be up to the challenge, led by freshman goalkeeper Yewande Balogun, who made a career-high seven saves.

"Our backline and goalkeeper were solid again," said Pensky. "This is a well deserved third shutout of the season for our defense and our team."

Maryland needed a spark in the game's final 10 minutes and it came from sophomore midfielder Emily Maynard. With the game winding down, Maynard helped the Terps control the middle of the field and attack the Big Green defense. She nearly ended the game herself in the 107th minute when she was on the receiving end from a nifty through-ball from Sciascia. Maynard got off a clean shot in a one-on-one situation with Peaks, but the ball sailed wide left of the goal by inches.

GEORGE MASON. . . . . 0
MARYLAND. . . . . 1

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - Midfielder Nataly Arias scored her third goal of the season off of a perfect give-and-go with sophomore Maureen Dowling to give the University of Maryland women's soccer team a 1-0 victory over George Mason Sunday night at Ludwig Field.

The win lifts the Terps' record to 4-1-1 on the season and gives them their first three-game winning streak since 2002. The Patriots fall to 4-2-0 on the season.

"We scored a great goal in the run of play against a hard-nosed, stingy defense," said Maryland head coach Brian Pensky. "Kaila [Sciascia] and Mo [Dowling] played good balls, and Nat [Arias] showed terrific composure in skillfully tucking it away.

"Then in the second half we did what we needed to do to kill the game off. It would have been nice to have finished one of our earlier chances to extend our lead; yet knowing that we can successfully finish off a game is important."

Maryland came out at the opening whistle determined to challenge the Mason defense and the strategy paid off with three corner kick opportunities in the first eight minutes of the match.

Freshman Kylie Ricker had the first quality scoring chance in the 17th minute of play, taking a strong shot from 18 yards out that Patriot goalkeeper Kasey Davenport saved, but lost the ball for an instant before recovering.

Junior midfielder Kaila Sciascia nearly got the Terps on the board in the 27th minute with a spectacular effort on a cross-field pass from sophomore defender Mary Casey. Casey sent a long cross from near the right side of midfield to a streaking Sciascia into the Mason 18-yard box. The pass looked to be a few paces too far, but Sciascia caught up to it and got off a sliding shot that barely sailed right of the goal.

That led to Arias' game-winning heroics in the 34th minute. The play started with a foul on Mason that was followed by a free kick shot from senior defender Ashly Kennedy. That shot went wide, but Arias was able to win a 50-50 ball off Davenport's ensuing goal kick. She then saw Dowling making a run down the left side of the field and sent a nifty pass onto Dowling's feet. Never giving up on the play, Arias continued to make a run down the center of the field and Dowling was able to slip a pass to her at the 13-yard marker where Arias finished the goal into the left center of the Patriot net.

That goal marked Arias' fourth career game-winner and second in as many games after netting the lone goal in the Terps' 1-0 double-overtime win over Dartmouth on Friday. It also marks the first time a Maryland player scored back-to-back game-winners since Mallory Mahar tallied consecutive game-winners in the 2004 NCAA tournament against Loyola and Penn State.

Sciascia could have given the Terrapins a 2-0 lead in the 70th minute, but Davenport made the best of her four saves in the match to preserve the 1-0 score. Arias dribbled through the middle of the Patriot defense, drawing several defenders. That allowed Sciascia to make a well-timed run through the left center of the field. Arias hit her with a great through-ball behind the Mason defense that left Sciascia one-on-one with the GMU goalkeeper. Sciascia got off a hard shot, but Davenport was up to the challenge and held on for the save.

Maryland's defense was solid all match and held the 1-0 lead despite furious pressure in the waning minutes by the Patriots. Terrapin freshman goalkeeper Yewande Balogun earned her fourth shutout after making three saves.

KENT STATE . . . . . 1 (2OT)
MARYLAND. . . . . 1

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - The University of Maryland women's soccer team played to a 1-1 tie with Kent State Saturday night at Ludwig Field.

The result gives the Terps a 4-1-2 record, while the Golden Flashes now stand at 2-4-1 on the season.

Maryland dominated the entire game, out-shooting Kent State 33-5, including 17-0 in the first half. But the Flashes were opportunistic, scoring on their first shot of the game, which did not come until the 58th minute. Kimberly Dimitroff took a through ball from Caitlin Hester and slipped a shot into the lower right corner of the Terrapin goal.

The Terps responded with a consistent attack spearheaded by redshirt junior Nataly Arias, who led Maryland with 10 shots, junior forward Aimee Bresani and freshman forward Annesia Faulkner.

Maryland scored the tying goal in the 76th minute off a great set-piece following a Kent State foul. Junior forward Kaila Sciascia took the free kick from just outside the right side of the 18-yard box. She flipped a nice ball over the wall and into the box, but neither team could control the pass. The ball eventually ended up at the feet of senior co-captain Ashly Kennedy, who turned and fired a volley past the Golden Flash defense into the left side of the net.

Senior co-captain Shelley McDuff almost gave the Terps the win in the 85th minute with a screaming blast from nearly 30 yards out that sailed just inches over the crossbar.

Kent State did not get off a shot in either overtime period as the Terrapins controlled possession. Maryland last great scoring opportunity came in the 108th minute with both Bresani and sophomore midfielder Emily Maynard coming within inches of scoring. Bresani's shot deflected off of a Kent State defender and rattled off the crossbar. It rebounded out in front of the goal where Maynard collected the loose ball and fired a shot, but it hit off the left post.

Maryland's freshman goalkeeper Yewande Balogun made one save in the match, while her counterpart from the Golden Flashes, Kris Nelson, stopped eight shots.

NO. 14 CLEMSON . . . . . 1 (2OT)

CLEMSON, S.C. - The University of Maryland women's soccer team lost a heartbreaking 1-0 decision in double-overtime to 14th-ranked Clemson Thursday night at Riggs Field.

The loss drops the Terps to 4-2-2 on the season and 0-1-0 in the ACC, while the Tigers now stand at 8-1-0 on the year, 1-0-0 in the conference.

"I am extremely proud of our performance," said Maryland head coach Brian Pensky. "Our kids fought so hard, and certainly deserve better.

"The environment tonight was very hostile, but our kids were great. They just kept plugging away as all good competitors do."

The game's lone goal came in the 106th minute when junior defender Molly Johnson headed the ball in to the left side of the Terrapin goal off of a serve from Elizabeth Jobe from 30 yards out on the right side of the field.

The play came as a result of an unfortunate foul called on Maryland senior Ashly Kennedy. On that foul Kennedy was injured on the play and had to be removed from the field until the next stoppage of play, meaning that the Terps were a man-down at the time of the Tiger score.

Maryland's grit and determination can be seen on the stat sheet, as the Terps out-shot Clemson 12-11 on the Tigers' home field. Leading the way were forwards Lauren Gamble and Annesia Faulkner, who each made their first starts of the season and combined for five of the dozen Maryland shots.

"This team has outstanding leadership," said Pensky. "And as all quality leaders do, they will pick themselves and their teammates up and prepare for the next challenge."

LEHIGH . . . . . 0
MARYLAND. . . . . 2

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - Kaila Sciascia scored twice to lead the University of Maryland women's soccer team to a 2-0 win over Lehigh Sunday afternoon at Ludwig Field the the Terps' final non-conference match of the season.

The win boosts the Terps' record to 5-2-2 on the season, while the Mountain Hawks fall to 5-3-2.

"This is a good win against a very well-coached, organized team," said Maryland head coach Brian Pensky. "We had a number of kids contribute to the win today, and that's always great to see. It's a sign of a good team ... it's a sign of a deep team."

After a sluggish start to the match, Maryland regrouped and dominated the opening 45 minutes of play but could not get on the board and headed to the locker room tied at 0-0.

The Terps came out from halftime and pushed the pace offensively, finally breaking through with their first goal in the 66th minute of play. Sciascia started and finished the scoring chance to give the Terrapins a 1-0 lead. The junior forward played a ball to senior midfielder Kelly Rozumalski on the right flank and headed straight to the Mountain Hawk goal, looking for the cross.

Rozumalski didn't send a cross, but laced a brilliant shot at the Lehigh net. Freshman goalkeeper Lauren Mains was able to get a piece of the ball, but it bounced in front of the goal where Sciascia was able to finish the play before an oncoming Mountain Hawk defender could clear it away.

Sciascia's second score came from an unlikely source as Terrapin freshman goalkeeper Yewande Balogun picked up the assist on the goal. Balogun cleared a ball from just inside her own 18-yard box to well past midfield, past the entire Lehigh defense. Sciascia made a well-timed run, staying onside, and had a clear breakaway. She was one-on-one with Mains approaching the Lehigh goal and finished with a good strike from 13 yards out.

With that second score, Sciascia became the first Terp to score two goals in a game since teammate Melissa Hornfeck tallied two goals in a 6-0 win vs. UMBC on Sept. 4, 2006. Balogun's assist marked the first time that a Maryland goalkeeper tallied a point since Riki-Ann Semns assisted an Emily Janss score on Oct. 25, 1998.

The Terrapins received outstanding contributions from a number of student-athletes, including forwards Aimee Bresani and Kimmy Bunting, as well as midfielders Caitlin McDowell and Brittany Cummins.

Overall, Maryland dominated the Mountain Hawks, outshooting Lehigh 23-5 and taking eight corner kicks to Lehigh's two.

NO. 18 WAKE FOREST . . . . . 1
MARYLAND. . . . . 0

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - The University of Maryland women's soccer team lost a tough 1-0 match to No. 18 Wake Forest at Ludwig Field on Friday evening.

The win drops the Terps' record to 5-3-2 on the season, 0-2-0 in the ACC, The Demon Deacons improve to 7-3-2 overall, 2-0-1 in the conference.

In a match that was much more competitive than a glance at the box score would indicate, Wake Forest's leading scorer, Jill Hutchinson, was able to score the game's lone goal in the 88th minute. Samantha German started the play with a long ball from Wake's back right wing. Allie Sadow was able to make a run onto the ball and crossed it into the Maryland 18-yard box where Hutchinson was able to finish it from 11 yards.

"First, I want to congratulate Wake Forest on finding a way to get a goal tonight," said Maryland head coach Brian Pensky. "As we've seen thus far, in ACC games the margin of error is so small. Tonight they found a way to get a goal and unfortunately we didn't.

"Having said that, I can confidently say that we out-competed Wake Forest tonight and when a team does that it gives itself a chance. As a team, the only frustration we feel tonight is leaving with not points, but everybody associated with our program needs to be extremely proud of the effort."

Maryland, which was out-shot 18-7 in the match, pushed the paced throughout the game and ended up with eight corner kicks to the Demon Deacons' seven. Junior forward Aimee Bresani was aggressive and created opportunities for the Terps, but injuries forced her to move back to play defense for the game's final 17 minutes.

Terrapin freshman goalkeeper Yewande Balogun turned in another solid performance in goal, making six saves in the match.

NO. 12 NORTH CAROLINA . . . 2
MARYLAND. . . . . 1 (OT)

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - North Carolina's Casey Nogueira spoiled a terrific comeback by the University of Maryland women's soccer team with a goal in the 93rd minute to give the No. 12 Tar Heels a 2-1 overtime victory over the Terps Sunday afternoon in front of a crowd of 2,072 at Ludwig Field.

The win drops the Terps' record to 5-4-2 on the season, 0-3-0 in the ACC. Carolina improves to 8-3-0 overall, 3-1-0 in the conference.

Maryland competed hard with the defending national champions, battling to a 0-0 halftime tie despite being out-shot 10-2 in the first 45 minutes.

North Carolina came out of the break with some urgency and scored the game's first goal in the 65th minute. Nogueira set-up this score with a good through ball to Nikki Washington, who finished the ball into the right side of the Terrapin net with a good strike from 15 yards.

It looked as if Maryland was going to tie the match in 77th minute when sophomore midfielder Maureen Dowling got on the end of a Kaila Sciascia cross with a solid header that had UNC goalkeeper Ashlyn Harris beat, but the ball sailed just inches to the right of the far post.

Maryland finally got that tying goal five minutes later on freshman midfielder Caitlin McDowell's first collegiate score. Junior forward Aimee Bresani play a nice cross to redshirt junior Nataly Arias at the top of the 18-yard box of the Tar Heels. Arias' shot was blocked, but McDowell was right there to clean up the rebound and knot the game at 1-1.

That goal gave the Terps some much needed energy and they responded by getting off the final four shots in regulation, but none found the back of the net and the match went to overtime.

Less than three minutes into the overtime period UNC's Whitney Engen settled a second ball off of a Maryland goal kick and played a perfect through ball to Nogueira, who finished with a nice touch into the right side of the Terrapin goal just past a diving Yewande Balogun.

Balogun was fantastic in goal for the Terps, making a career-best eight saves. Maryland entered the game without the services of defender Mary Casey, who was out due to an injury suffered in the Wake Forest match, but freshman Olivia Onyeador stepped-in and gave a solid effort at the right back spot.

"Our kids played so well today," said Maryland coach Brian Pensky. "North Carolina is still the most talented team in the country, despite their three losses - there should be no mistaking that. And our players were up to the challenge. We continue to get better each game. And at some point our kids will be rewarded with a result.

"This conference is so special. Our next challenge is just as exciting - an opportunity against Florida State, which has been to two consecutive College Cups."

NO. 15 FLORIDA STATE. . . . . 2

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. - The University of Maryland women's soccer team held the nation's highest scoring team below its season average by two goals, but 15th-ranked Florida State handed the Terps a 2-0 defeat at the Seminole Soccer Complex Thursday evening.

The loss drops the Terps' record to 5-5-2 on the season, 0-4-0 in the ACC. The Seminoles improve to 8-3-2 overall, 3-1-1 in the conference.

"Tonight was not our best effort - anyone who saw our game would attest to that," said Maryland coach Brian Pensky. "The signature of this program is how hard we work for one another; and tonight we lacked that quality. We have outstanding players and people in this program and we will all bounce back Sunday vs. Miami."

The Seminoles were able to put their first score on the board in the 36th minute of play. FSU's Katrina Schmidt sent a pass into the Maryland 18-yard box where Sanna Talonen was able to one-time the ball from 10 yards out into the Terrapin net for the goal.

The Terps nearly tied the match less than five minutes later when sophomore defender Mary Casey got on the end of a brilliant corner kick by junior forward Kaila Sciascia with a solid header. Seminole goalkeeper Erin McNulty was caught out of position, but a Florida State defender was there to stop the ball from going into the net.

Florida State picked up the insurance goal in the 56th minute off of a direct free kick by Becky Edwards from 45 yards out into the upper left corner of the Maryland goal.

Terrapin freshman goalkeeper Yewande Balogun made five saves in the match and helped the Terrapin defense hold NCAA scoring leader Mami Yamaguchi without a point for just the second time in Florida State's 13 matches this season.

MIAMI . . . . . 1

CORAL GABLES, Fla. -Freshman goalkeeper Yewande Balogun made a career-best nine saves, but in the end it wasn't enough to prevent the Miami Hurricanes from handing the University of Maryland women's soccer team a 1-0 loss Sunday afternoon at Cobb Stadium.

The loss drops the Terps' record to 5-6-2 on the season, 0-5-0 in the ACC. The Hurricanes improve to 8-3-3 overall, 4-1-1 in the conference.

The first half ended in a 0-0 tie and both teams had opportunities to net the first goal of the game, but both goalkeepers were sharp. Balogun made six of her nine saves in the first 45 minutes, while Miami's Lauren McAdam stopped five Terrapin shots.

Maryland almost drew first blood just minutes into the second half. A Miami foul on midfielder Nataly Arias, just on the Terps' side of the midfield stripe, gave Maryland a free kick. Senior co-captain Ashly Kennedy served the ball into the Hurricane 18-yard box where McAdam came out to try to get the ball. But the ball bounced off of couple of players before junior Kaila Sciascia got on the end of it and sent a solid header toward a wide-open Miami goal. But luck was on the side of the Hurricanes as a Miami defender was right there to head the ball away and prevent the score.

The match would remain scoreless until the 89th minute when Miami's Brittney Steinbruch took a throw-in and dribbled to the left-center of the Maryland 18-yard box and laced a shot through three Terrapin defenders, which screened Balogun from the play, and finished the goal into the lower left corner of the Maryland net for the game's lone goal.

"First, I'd like to say congratulations to Miami," said Maryland coach Brian Pensky following the match. "Brittney Steinbruch is a good player, and she did well to finish that chance. We're not going to hang our heads. We can be proud of our effort and we all know there is a lot of soccer still to be played."

MARYLAND. . . . . 2
DUKE . . . . . .2 (2OT)

DURHAM, N.C. - The University of Maryland women's soccer team, behind a three-point effort from Kelly Rozumalski, picked up a much needed point in the ACC with a come-from-behind 2-2 tie at Duke Sunday afternoon.

The Terps took a 1-0 lead in the eighth minute of play when Rozumalski was able to get on the end of a cross from freshman forward Annesia Faulkner and finish the ball from close range. The play began with Rozumalski and sophomore midfielder Brittany Cummins combining to get the ball to Faulker along the Blue Devils' endline.

But the Blue Devils rallied back with a pair of first half scores in an eight-minute span. Lorraine Quinn tied the match for Duke in the 33rd minute with a hard shot into the upper right corner of the Terrapin net. Rebecca Allen followed that score with her third goal of the season in the 40th minute of play with a score into the lower right corner.

Maryland knotted the match in the 69th minute on redshirt junior Nataly Arias' team-leading fourth goal of the season. Rozumalski started the play with a good drive down the right side of the midfield and dribbled into the Duke defensive zone. Arias made a deep run behind the defense from the midfield and Rozumalski slipped her the ball for a breakaway. Arias was then able to finish with a high shot to near post at Lipsher came out to try to cut off the angle.

That's the way the match would remain, thanks in large part to the efforts of Maryland goalkeeper Yewande Balogun and Lipsher. Balogun finished the match with six stops, while Lipsher was one better with seven saves.

"Duke is a very talented team, and we knew that coming in," said Maryland head coach Brian Pensky. "However, our attacking rhythm was outstanding today, and Roz and Nat scored very good goals.

"We are an excellent team with excellent character. Our kids showed that today. We came out of the gate on fire to take a 1-0 lead: and then had to dig deep and scratch our way back to tie the score. That's a reflection upon our kids' character.

"We now look forward to a battle at Virginia on Thursday against yet another highly ranked ACC opponent."

The result moves the Terps' record to 5-6-3 on the season, 0-5-1 in the ACC. The Blue Devils now stand at 7-3-5 overall, 2-2-3 in the conference.

Faulkner was the driving force of the offense for much of the match, firing a game-high six shots, including four on goal.

NO. 3 VIRGINIA . . . . . 3

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. - The University of Maryland women's soccer team dropped a 3-0 decision at No. 3 Virginia Thursday evening at Klöckner Stadium.

The loss drops the Terps' record to 5-7-3 on the season, 0-6-1 in the ACC. The Cavaliers now stand at 11-1-4 overall, 5-0-3 in the conference.

The match was even after the first half, but the turning point came in the 32nd minute when Maryland's freshman goalkeeper Yewande Balogun had to leave the match after making a save on a Cavalier corner kick. Sophomore Mary Casey stepped in to replace Balogun and made three saves in the contest.

The Terps continued to hold the Wahoos at bay until the 63rd minute. That's when sophomore Kelly Quinn scored the game's first goal on an unlikely shot off the side of her right boot that looped over the head of Casey into the upper left 90 of the Terrapin goal.

The game remained a 1-0 Virginia advantage until the waning minutes when Virginia took advantage of Maryland pressing for the tying goal. That pressure allowed Meghan Lenczyk to tally a pair of late goals to push the score to the 3-0 final.

VIRGINIA TECH . . . . . 2
MARYLAND. . . . . 1 (OT)

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - Nataly Anas scored her team-leading fifth goal of the season, but the Virginia Tech Hokies edged the University of Maryland women's soccer team 2-1 in overtime at Ludwig Field on Sunday evening.

Arias gave the Terps an early 1-0 lead in the 15th minute. Senior co-captain Ashly Kennedy sent a free kick from 40 yards out on the left wing into the Hokie six-yard box. Anas challenged for the ball in the air, but neither team was able to get control. The ball bounced off the turf and Arias was able to direct it into the left side of the Hokie goal off of her right hip.

The game would remain a 1-0 lead for the Terps through the first half, but both teams came out looking to score early in the second period.

Emily Jukich nearly got the Hokies on the board in the 55th minute with a back-heel kick, but her shot deflected off the right post and away from danger. Maryland responded a minute later with a quality chance by junior forward Kimmy Bunting. She worked a brilliant give-and-go with freshman midfielder Caitlin McDowell to get a breakaway on the VT goal. Bunting had Hokie sophomore Robin Chidester, who was an emergency keeper for Tech, beaten, but pushed her shot wide left.

The Hokies finally got on the board in the 60th minute as Jukich tied the game putting home a rebound into the lower left side of the Maryland net. The play began with Marika Gray crossing the ball from the left side to Julian Johnson, who laced a shot at the Terrapin goal. Sophomore Mary Casey, who was making her first career start in goal for the Terps, made a diving save on the shot, but the rebound found Jukich for the finish.

Kennedy nearly gave Maryland a 2-1 lead in the 67th minute when she intercepted an errant Hokie pass near midfield. Kennedy then dribbled through the Hokie defense to the left side of the 18-yard box where she blasted a shot from 16 yards out that sailed wide of the upper right 90 by inches.

Jukich had the final quality chance in regulation in the 82nd minute, nearly putting in another rebound goal. Gray fired a shot that rattled off the crossbar. The rebound bounced right to Jukich, but her shot went over the Maryland goal by less than a foot.

The overtime did not last long as Gray and Johnson hooked-up in the 94th minute for the golden goal. Gray took the ball down the left side of the midfield and crossed the ball to Johnson, who was making a run down the center of the field. The cross was played just in front of Johnson, but she was able to get a step on the Maryland defense and one-time the ball into the left side of the net.

The match got off to a rough start for both squads in the eighth minute of play. Virginia Tech goalkeeper Ashley Owens came out to play a long ball that was sent toward the Hokie 18-yard box. Maryland freshman forward Annesia Faulkner made a run and challenged for the ball as it took a high bounce just outside the VT 18-yard box. The two players collided and both had to be taken off the field. Faulkner returned late in the second half, but only played one minute. Owens did not return for Virginia Tech.

Casey was solid for the Terps in goal and finished the match with a career-high seven saves. Chidester, who was playing keeper for the first time in her collegiate career, made four stops for the Hokies.

NO. 10 BOSTON COLLEGE . . . 2
MARYLAND. . . . . 0

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - The 10th-ranked Boston College Eagles proved too much for the University of Maryland women's soccer team in a 2-0 victory over the Terps Thursday night at Ludwig Field.

Boston College right back Hannah Cerrone scored the game's first goal and added an assist on the second Eagle score to lead BC to its 11th win of the season. The Eagles now stand at 11-3-3, 4-3-2 in the ACC, while the result drops the Terps to 5-9-3 for the year, 0-8-1 in the conference.

The Terps had the first quality chance of the match off of a Caitlin McDowell corner kick in the 17th minute. The freshman midfielder from Plano, Texas, sent the kick from the left corner into the Eagle six-yard box where junior defender Aimee Bresani got on the end of it and headed the ball straight down. Eagle goalkeeper Mae Shamir was screened out by Maryland midfielder Kelly Rozumalski and the ball appeared to have crossed over the goal line, but the referee ruled that Shamir grabbed it before it could cross over.

Shots on goal for the match were close with Boston College holding a 5-3 advantage, but those two shots proved to be the difference, as did the play of Cerrone.

A Maryland foul just outside of the 18-yard box setup Cerrone for her goal in the 27th minute. With the ball just right of center, Cerrone drilled the free kick into the upper left 90. The ball rattled off of the left post and caromed into the goal for a 1-0 Eagle lead.

That's the way the match remained until the 80th minute when Cerrone sent a corner kick from the left side into the box where Kelly Henderson was able to get on the end of it and bounce a header into the left side of the Terrapin goal.

MARYLAND. . . . . 2
NC STATE . . . . . 0

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - Senior midfielder Kelly Rozumalski made her final match as a Terp a memorable one as she scored the game-winning goal to lead the University of Maryland women's soccer team to a 2-0 win on "Senior Day" over NC State Sunday afternoon at Ludwig Field.

"This win was for our seniors," said Maryland head coach Brian Pensky. "They have meant so much to this team and program; and their legacy as leaders will live on for quite some time."

The Terps came out aggressive on offense and nearly jumped out to a 1-0 lead in the 11th minute. Senior midfielder Melissa Hornfeck sent a bending corner kick from the right corner to the near post. Redshirt junior Nataly Arias fought to the spot and got a piece of the ball, sending it into the right side of the Wolfpack goal. The celebration was short-lived however as the referee called an obstruction foul and waived off the goal.

Although the Terps didn't get the score that play set the tone for the match and Maryland would not be denied for long.

In the 25th minute, Rozumalski took a simple pass from freshman midfielder Caitlin McDowell and drilled a shot into the upper left 90 from 23 yards out to give Maryland a 1-0 lead. For Rozumalski it was goal number three on the season and ninth overall for her career. Sophomore defender Brittany Cummins also earned an assist on Rozumalski's game-winning score.

Maryland nearly got its insurance goal a minute later as junior forward Kimmy Bunting sent a cross from the right side to the front of the NC State goal. Arias got on the end of it with a solid header, but it skimmed over the crossbar by a couple of inches.

Arias figured into Maryland's next threatening play in the 37th minute. The Alexandria, Va., native laced a shot from 25 yards out to the upper left corner that was similar to Rozumalski's score, but this time the ball found the crossbar and bounced back into play. But the bounce was lucky for the Terps as it went right to sophomore midfielder Emily Maynard. The native of Munster, Ind., volleyed the ball out of the air with her right boot and got off a hard shot at the Wolfpack net, but Rachel Barnette made a diving save for NC State to keep the Wolfpack in the match.

They did not hang in the match for long however as Bunting scored her first goal of the season in the 43rd minute to put the game out of reach. Maynard picked up the assist on the play by sending a free kick from 35 yards away into the Wolfpack six-yard box, where Bunting was able to a piece of the ball with a glancing header. But it was enough to get past Barnette and send the Terps into halftime with a 2-0 advantage.

The second half saw the Terps use a stingy defense to hold off the Wolfpack and limit them to just two shots on goal in the final 45 minutes.

Sophomore goalkeeper Mary Casey earned her first career shutout with three saves. NC State sophomore Sydney Little relieved Barnette in the second half and made five stops.

HOME OF MARYLAND SO

LUDWIG FIEL

Since its opening in 1995, state-of-the-art Ludwig Field has been the home of the Terrapin men's and women's soccer teams as well as playing host to numerous other local soccer events throughout the past eight years.

Due to the expanding horizon of Terrapin soccer and the growing interest in its achievement on the field, the University of Maryland embarked on a project that would bring the level of the facility on par with the excellence of the programs that played there.

The $2.5 million facility was dedicated on Sept. 16, 1995, and is surely a cornerstone of collegiate soccer throughout the nation.

The 4,000-seat facility is an integral part of new construction for Maryland athletics. The complex is fully lighted with an all-weather track and sodded Bermuda grass playing field. The most recent update for the facility is the installation of a permanent press box, which is fully-functional for the 2008 season.

The permanent lights allow for commonly scheduled night games. The lights also allow Maryland the ability to host NCAA and Atlantic Coast Conference tournaments and nationally televised games. Since its opening, Ludwig Field has played host to nine NCAA Tournament games, including Maryland's 1-0 win over American on Nov. 15, 2002.

In addition to the collegiate games played at Ludwig Field, the complex has played host to numerous U.S. and professional soccer matches, as well. Among the teams who have used Ludwig Field as their home-away-from-home are the 2000 U.S. Women's National Team and the WUSA's own Washington Freedom.

In addition to the high level of competition created by the excellent playing surface at Ludwig Field, the complex was also created with the local soccer fan very much in mind. The field is located directly adjacent to Parking Lot 1 and close to the University Boulevard entrance.

The facility is named after lifetime Terrapin friends Bob and Louise Ludwig.

THE UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND

DEEP ROOTS, BROAD IMPACT

Charles Benedict Calvert founded the Maryland Agricultural College in 1856 with the goal of creating a school that would offer outstanding practical knowledge to him and his neighbors and be "an institution superior to any other."

One hundred and fifty years later, the University of Maryland has blossomed from its roots as the state's first agricultural college and one of America's original land grant institutions into a model of the modern research university. It is the state's greatest asset for its economic development and its future, and has made its mark in the nation and the world.

Calvert would be astounded by the depth and breadth of research activities, innovative educational programs, and the single-minded pursuit of excellence that are part of the University of Maryland today. Maryland is ranked 18th among the nation's top public research universities by U.S. News & World Report, with 31 academic programs in the Top 10 and 86 in the Top 25. It is also ranked No. 37th in the world, according to the Institute of Higher Education at at Shanghai's Jiao Tong University.

Maryland is the state's premier center of research and graduate education and the public institution of choice for undergraduate students of exceptional ability and promise. The faculty includes four Nobel laureates, six Pulitzer Prize winners, a three-time Emmy Award winner, more than 40 members of national academies and scores of Fulbright scholars. The university focuses great attention on the highest academic standards, affordability for all qualified students, and a President's Promise program that guarantees opportunity for extraordinary extracurricular and professional experiences for each student.

It has earned a national reputation for its enriched educational experiences for undergraduates, including such widely imitated living/learning programs as College Park Scholars; Gemstone, a unique program that brings teams of students together from across disciplines to tackle specific technical problems; and the Hinman CEO Entrepreneurship Program, sponsored jointly by the A. James Clark School of Engineering and the Robert H. Smith School of Business, and widely recognized as the most successful student entrepreneurship program in the nation.

These programs are guided by outstanding faculty whos accomplishments in research abound. Whether the issue i Mideast peace, cutting-edge research in nanoscience, homelan security or bioscience advances, Maryland faculty are selecte for national leadership and are making news. Many recent majc faculty initiatives receiving significant external support strengthe our homeland security endeavors—centers for research o agrosecurity and emergency management; intermodal freigh transportation security; behavioral and social analyses c terrorism and responses to terrorism; astrophysics and advance world climate and weather prediction; and a national Center fo Advanced Study of Language.

In addition to its academic prowess, Maryland is also hom to the Terrapins, whose athletic achievements are a perennia source of pride for nearly 250,000 alumni and residents o the state. In 2005-2006, the Terrapins brought home nationa championships in four sports — men's soccer, field hockey competitive cheer and women's basketball — more than an university in the nation.

Whether aiming for the skies or pioneering journalism programs in China, the University of Maryland is surging ahead Building on the work of outstanding faculty and students, anc with the loyal support of alumni and friends, Maryland is moving aggressively and confidently to a decade that will shine brighte than any other in its history.

DR. C.D. MOTE

UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT
CALIFORNIA '59
10TH YEAR

In September 1998, C. D. (Dan) Mote, Jr. began his tenure as President of the University of Maryland and Glenn L. Martin Institute Professor of Engineering. He was recruited to lead the University of Maryland to national eminence under a mandate by the state. Since assuming the presidency, he has encouraged an environment of excellence across the University and given new impetus to the momentum generated by a talented faculty and student body. Under his leadership, academic programs have flourished. In 2005, the University was ranked 18th among public research universities, up from 30th in 1998. President Mote has emphasized broad access to the university's model, enriched undergraduate curriculum programs and launched the Baltimore Incentive Awards Program to recruit and provide full support to high school students of outstanding potential who have overcome extraordinary adversity during their lives.

He has spurred the university to lead the state in the development of its high-tech economy, especially in the information and communication, bioscience and biotechnology, and nano-technology sectors. President Mote has greatly expanded the university's partnerships with corporate and federal laboratories and successfully negotiated to bring to the College Park area the first Science Research Park sponsored by the People's Republic of China. Under his leadership, the University has established a research park, The University of Maryland Enterprise Campus, M-Square, located on a 115-acre site adjacent to the University of Maryland/College Park Metro with 3 million square feet of development potential. Among its first tenants are the Center for Advanced Study of Language, a joint venture of the University and Department of Defense, and the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration's new World Weather and Climate Prediction Center.

During President Mote's second year in office, the University began the largest building boom in its history, with more than $100 million in new projects breaking ground that year. New facilities address every aspect of university life, from the arts to recreation to classrooms and laboratories, and, in creative partnership with the private sector, new residential facilities. Highlights of the construction activity include the stunning Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center; the Comcast Center, a state of the art sports complex; a high tech research greenhouse; and new classrooms for chemistry, computer science, business and engineering. President Mote also led the development of a new Facilities Master Plan for development in the next 20 years, which is noted for its emphasis on environmental stewardship.

Dr. Mote is a leader in the national dialogue on higher education and his analyses of shifting funding models have been featured in local and national media. He has testified on major educational issues before Congress, representing the University and higher education associations on the problem of visa barriers for international students and scholars and on deemed export control issues. He has been asked to serve on a high level National Academies Committee appointed at the request of the Senate Energy Subcommittee of the Senate Energy and Natural Resources Committee to identify challenges to United States leadership in key areas of science and technology and to be a member of the Leadership Council of the National Innovation Initiative, an activity of the Council on Competitiveness. He has served as vice chair of the Department of Defense Basic Research Committee, and is a member of the Council of the National Academy of Engineering. In 2004-2005, he served as President of the Atlantic Coast Conference. In its last ranking in 2002, "Washington Business Forward" magazine counted him among the top 20 most influential leaders in the region.

Prior to assuming the Presidency at Maryland, Dr. Mote served on the University of California, Berkeley faculty for 31 years. From 1991 to 1998, he was Vice Chancellor at Berkeley, held an endowed chair in Mechanical Systems and was President of the UC Berkeley Foundation. He led a comprehensive capital campaign for Berkeley that raised $1.4 B. He earlier served as chair of Berkeley's Department of Mechanical Engineering and led the department to its number one ranking in the National Research Council review of graduate program effectiveness.

Dr. Mote's research lies in dynamic systems and biomechanics. Internationally recognized for his research on the dynamics of gyroscopic systems and the biomechanics of snow skiing, he has produced more than 300 publications, holds patents in the U.S., Norway, Finland and Sweden, and has mentored 56 Ph.D. students. He received a B.S., M.S. and Ph.D. in mechanical engineering from the University of California, Berkeley. President Mote has received numerous awards and honors, including the Humboldt Prize awarded by the Federal Republic of Germany. He is a recipient of the Berkeley Citation, an award from the University of California-Berkeley similar to the honorary doctorate, and was named Distinguished Engineering Alumnus. He has received two honorary doctorates. He is a member of the U.S. National Academy of Engineering and serves on its Council, and is a member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences. He was elected to Honorary Membership in the ASME International, its most distinguished recognition, and is a Fellow of the International Academy of Wood Science, the Acoustical Society of America, and the American Association for the Advancement of Science. In Spring 2005, he was named recipient of the 2005 J. P. Den Hartog award by the ASME International Technical Committee on Vibration and Sound to honor his lifelong contribution to the teaching and/or practice of vibration engineering. In Fall 2005, he received the 2005 Founders Award from the National Academy of Engineering in recognition of his comprehensive body of work on the dynamics of moving flexible structures and for leadership in academia.

He and his wife of over 40 years, Patricia Mote, have two married children, Melissa and Adam, and four grandchildren. Patsy Mote has continued her strong support of the arts and is spokesperson for the Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center and a member of Prince George's County Arts Commission.

DEBORAH A. YOW

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS • 15TH YEAR AT MARYLAND

Deborah A. Yow is in the 15th year of her outstanding tenure as director of athletics at the University of Maryland, a tenure that has seen unprecedented success and achievement in Maryland athletics. In Yow's 14-plus years at Maryland, the Terrapins have won a remarkable 16 national championships and graduated student-athletes at an enviable rate as Maryland athletics has soared to sustained new heights among the nation's elite intercollegiate athletic programs.

The comprehensive success of Terrapin athletics under Debbie Yow's leadership is a clear and compelling testimony of her values of excellence, teamwork and accountability.

Likewise, her prior election to the presidency of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics is an indication of the wide respect with which she is regarded among its 6,100 members representing 1,600 colleges and universities in the U.S. and Canada. She serves as the current President of the national Division I-A Athletic Directors Association and is a member of the Board of Directors of the National Football Foundation, as well as the Board of Directors of USA Football and the NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Academic Enhancement Committee.

She has been honored by Street and Smith's Sports Business Journal as one of the 20 most influential people in intercollegiate athletics, was cited in The Chronicle of Higher Education in October 2007 as one of the "Ten Most Powerful People in College Athletics/The Builder" and she has received the Carl Maddox Sport Management Award presented by the United States Sports Academy for excellence in athletics administration.

Dr. Yow was selected to serve on the U.S. Department of Education's Commission on Opportunities in Athletics to review the status of Federal Title IX regulations. She served as the chair of the Atlantic Coast Conference Committee on Television. The committee is charged with overseeing the league's TV contracts and dealing with issues related to television, including multi-year ACC football and basketball contracts with ABC, ESPN, ESPN2 and syndication entities.

Additionally, she has represented intercollegiate athletics with presentations in a number of prominent settings such as the Harvard University School of Law conference on "Shaping the Future of Collegiate Athletics" and the Street and Smith's Sports Business Journal "National Forum on the Direction of Intercollegiate Athletics" in New York.

Yow, who has served on the NCAA Management Council and the NCAA Division I Budget Committee, is a strong and steady voice on behalf of intercollegiate athletics in America.

Since taking over as AD at Maryland in 1994, she and her staff have:

- Transformed Terrapin athletics into a responsive, goal-oriented organization with 27 sports and more than 700 student-athletes.
- Balanced all 14 of the department's annual budgets (none of the budgets were balanced in the 10 years prior to her arrival). The budget now approaches $60 million annually and the $51 million debt which her administration inherited has been reduced to $7.6 million.
- Greatly enhanced the academic support services provided for student-athletes, with an enviable exhausted eligibility graduation rate of approximately 85 percent for student-athletes at Maryland. Academic outcomes and student-athlete welfare have received consistent and focused attention.
- Led the Terrapins to a national all-sports ranking in the upper 7 percent of all NCAA Division I institutions.
- Significantly expanded marketing and fund-raising efforts on behalf of Terrapin athletics. As a result, private gifts to athletics have increased over 350 percent and corporate sponsorship revenues have increased by over 300 percent during her tenure at Maryland.
- Continued to dramatically improve venues and facilities for the department's 27 teams. The 18,000-seat Comcast Center for men's and women's basketball and other sports that use the facility is a prime example of the remarkable $250 million upgrade of athletic facilities.
- Implemented a strategic management model.
- Developed a comprehensive Internet strategy with management, marketing and fund-raising applications.
- Significantly improved customer care in every area of Maryland athletics.

The most recent achievements of Maryland athletics are exceptional:

- Maryland captured a remarkable seven national championships during the past three seasons.
- In the recent academic year, the Terrapins achieved the highest student-athlete graduation rate in the history of Maryland athletics and had the highest graduation rate of any public institution in the Atlantic Coast Conference.
- Fundraising for Maryland athletics set a historic mark of $24.7 million in 2006-07.
- Maryland was selected by U.S. News & World Report and Sports Illustrated as one of the Top 20 athletic programs in the nation (for overall quality and competitive excellence).
- In 2005-06, Maryland Athletics won the inaugural PRISM Award as the best-managed Division I collegiate athletics program in the nation.
- Maryland was ranked as the sixth-finest athletic program in the nation by the Center for the Study of Intercollegiate Athletics, based on comprehensive criteria such as graduation rates, financial efficiency, equity effectiveness and competitive excellence.
- In men's basketball, the Terps won the Atlantic Coast Conference title over Duke in the championship game in 2004 and won the NCAA National Championship in 2002. Under Coach Gary Williams, the men's basketball team appeared in 11 consecutive NCAA Tournaments and in 12 of the last 15 tournaments.
- Women's basketball won the 2006 NCAA National Championship under head coach Brenda Frese, completing an amazing turnaround that saw the program go from a 10-18 record to a National Championship in four seasons.
- In football, the Terps won the 2001 Atlantic Coast Conference championship and played in the 2002 Orange Bowl, followed that with an 11-win season and a 30-3 victory over the University of Tennessee in the Peach Bowl, again followed by a 10-win season and a 41-7 win over West Virginia in the Gator Bowl on New Year's Day 2004. In the 2006 season, Maryland returned to the bowl scene, where the Terps defeated Purdue, 24-7, in the Champs Sports Bowl, and in 2007 was selected to play Oregon State in the Emerald Bowl in San Francisco. Graduation rates in football are exemplary and the program was recently recognized by the American Football Coaches Association for its academic excellence under Coach Ralph Friedgen.
- Additionally, Maryland is one of only three universities in the nation to win National Championships in men's basketball, women's basketball and football. Stanford and UCLA are the other NCAA Division I institutions to achieve that mark.
- Set an ACC single-game record for women's basketball attendance by drawing 17,950 to a regular-season game at Comcast Center and led the ACC in season attendance.
- Hired Dave Cottle, the sixth-winningest active men's lacrosse coach in the U.S., who guided his team to the NCAA Final Four in three of his first four seasons.
- Field hockey earned National Championships in 2005-06 and in 2006-07, and has become a perennial participant in the Final Four in that sport.
- In women's lacrosse, hired Cathy Reese, who was named the 2007 ACC Coach of the Year in her first season as coach of the Terps.
- Men's soccer has appeared in four Final Fours in the past six years and won the NCAA National Championship.
- Football facilities have been significantly enhanced with team house, stadium and practice field upgrades. The Football Academic Center was the first improvement, as it took priority over all other initiatives.
- In 2006-07, 16 Maryland teams competed in postseason play.
- The productivity, morale, and the competitive and academic achievement of Terrapin athletics are exceptional and continue to gain momentum.

Regarding the many achievements of Terrapin athletics over the past 14 years, Yow says, "We are pleased, but we are not satisfied... our vision is to be one of the Top 5 programs in the nation consistently... we see no reason to settle for less."

Yow is known for her goal-oriented and proactive management style. She consistently inspires and challenges those around her to "raise our sights and sharpen our tools... to work hard and work smart... to recognize that our only limitations are those that we place upon ourselves."

As a manager and a leader, she clearly models these principles. She is the only known current AD in NCAA Division I who has hired both the National Coach of the Year in football (while at Maryland) and the National Coach of the Year in men's basketball (while at Saint Louis University). In 2002, she also brought to the University of Maryland Brenda Frese, who at that time was the National Coach of the Year in women's basketball. Four years later, Frese led the Terrapins to the NCAA National Championship at the Women's Final Four in Boston.

Dr. Yow is known as "a coach's A.D.," while also being highly organized and a strategic and proactive leader and administrator. Quite simply, Debbie Yow personifies the relational and management dynamics that are necessary to be an excellent administrator and leader.

A successful former basketball coach, she moved into athletics administration at the University of Florida and the University of North Carolina, Greensboro, followed by a successful tenure as A.D. at Saint Louis University.

She has authored numerous articles and books on athletics management and human behavior, and is a respected leader in intercollegiate athletics in the United States. She holds a bachelor's degree from Elon University, a masters degree from Liberty University and a doctorate (honorus causa) from the U.S. Sports Academy and an honorary doctorate for career achievement from Elon University.

Summing up the entire Maryland athletics program, our athletics director recently stated, "We have the finest student-athletes, coaches, support staff and administrative team in America. It is because of their courage, hard work and cooperative spirit that we now have a strong, viable athletic program. I am immensely proud of each of them. I am equally proud of our Terrapin fans who buy tickets, our Terrapin Club members who faithfully support the Maryland athletic program with their donations for scholarships, and the M Club members who serve and give liberally. We are also blessed with a terrific President, Dr. Dan Mote, who has fostered a mindset of excellence across our institution. He is a strong and balanced advocate for what he calls 'the three A's of the University -- Academics, the Arts and Athletics'. We have a great Terrapin family. That's the foundation for all of our success... and the basis for our bright future. It's a great time to be a Terp."

ACADEMIC SUPPORT AND CAREER DEVELOPMENT

The University of Maryland is committed to providing the highest quality education to all of its students. The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics strives to provide student-athletes excellent opportunities to participate in an intercollegiate athletics program of the highest quality, with the result that their athletics participation becomes an integral and valued component of their total educational experience at the university.

Terrapin student-athletes will find that the same hard work and discipline that has earned them success in athletics competition is also required in the classroom. Balancing the significant time demands and responsibilities required to be a successful student-athlete at the highest collegiate level is no small task. Therefore, as a result of their commitment to representing the university through athletics, Terrapin student-athletes are able to utilize support programs designed to meet their specific needs.

Led by associate athletics director Anton Goff, the mission of the Academic Support and Career Development Unit (ASCDU) is to provide quality developmental programs and need-based services that will enhance academic progress, facilitate career development, and encourage the psychosocial growth of all UM student-athletes. Laura Meckley works with the Maryland women's soccer team.

The Gossett Academic Support and Career Development Center for Terrapin student-athletes, named for long-time Terp supporters Barry and Mary Gossett, is located in the Comcast Center. It features a study center that includes 25 desktop computers, a tutoring center, a classroom, a CHAMPS/Life Skills resource room and individual offices for professional academic counselors, a director of enrichment programs, an assistant program coordinator and a graduate assistant. In addition, a new academic wing was added to the Gossett football team house recently. It features offices for two counselors, a program coordinator and three learning specialists; as well as a quiet study area, 29-desk computer lab, classroom, tutor rooms and classroom/lab for the individualized learning program.

Academic courses, programs and services offered by ASCDU include the following:

- Student-athlete orientation
- Academic counseling
- NCAA academic eligibility monitoring
- Academic enrichment and career development presentations and workshops
- Accredited tutorial support
- Individualized learning program
- EDCP 108-K (College learning strategies and skills)
- EDCP 108-M (Math learning strategies and skills)
- UNIV 100 (First-year transitions to the university)

MARYLAND GAMEPLAN

The Maryland Gameplan is intended to assist graduating Terrapin student-athletes as they begin the job search process. It is distributed to more than 500 corporations and businesses across the country, in addition to being featured on the M Club website. Prospective employers are introduced to our graduating student-athletes with resume information relative to academic, career and personal achievements. The Maryland Gameplan directory is produced annually in collaboration with the M Club.

CAREER NETWORKING NIGHT

Because career development is an ongoing process, ASCDU provides a variety of programs for student-athletes throughout the year. Professional assistance with resume- writing, interviewing skills, graduate school search and job search is readily available to all student-athletes. During the spring semester ASCDU hosts the Career Networking Night, where student-athletes can learn about career interests and career planning. Unlike typical "job fairs," the purpose of this program is to allow student-athletes to explore multiple career opportunities by speaking directly to individuals in their chosen areas of interest. Employers at the Career Networking Night recognize the marketable qualities student-athletes have gained through athletic participation. Student-athletes learn about opportunities for internships and full-time jobs.

STUDENT-ATHLETE ADVISORY COMMITTEE

The Student-Athlete Advisory Committee (S.A.A.C.) plays an important role in the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics. It consists of two representatives from each varsity sport and meets on a regular basis with representatives from the athletic administration. The S.A.A.C. mission is to enhance the total student-athlete experience by developing leadership skills, promoting student-athlete welfare and fostering a positive student-athlete image on the Maryland campus, local area and nationally.

CHAMPS/LIFE SKILLS PROGRAMS

ASCDU houses the NCAA's (National Collegiate Athletic Association) CHAMPS/Life Skills Program. The ASCDU staff, in collaboration with various other Department of Intercollegiate Athletics' units and campus resources, strives to provide a systematic personal development program designed to reach each student-athlete based on his or her individual needs. The focus of the program is on the individual academically, athletically and emotionally, and on the changing needs and skills of that individual in the years during college and after graduation. The menu of presentations, workshops and seminars is a comprehensive and balanced system of "life learning" programs promoted for use by each varsity sport team.

Highlights of the CHAMPS/Life Skills Programs:

- Support efforts of every student-athlete toward intellectual development and graduation
- Use athletics as preparation for success in life
- Meet the changing needs of student-athletes
- Promote respect for diversity among student-athletes
- Enhance interpersonal relationships in the lives of student-athletes
- Assist student-athletes in building positive self-esteem
- Enable student-athletes to make meaningful contributions to their communities
- Promote ownership by the student-athletes of their academic, athletic, personal and social responsibilities
- Enhance partnerships between the NCAA, member institutions and their communities for the purpose of education
- Encourage the development of leadership skills

CHAMPS/LIFE SKILLS PROGRAMS COMMITMENT STATEMENTS

Commitment to Academic Excellence

To support the academic progress of the student-athlete toward intellectual development and graduation.

Commitment to Athletic Excellence

To build philosophical foundations for the development of athletic programs that are broad-based, equitable and dedicated to the well-being of the student-athlete.

Commitment to Personal Development

To support the development of a well-balanced lifestyle for student-athletes, encouraging emotional well-being, personal growth and decision-making skills.

Commitment to Career Development

To encourage the student-athlete to develop and pursue career and life goals.

Commitment to Service

To engage student-athletes in service to his/her campus and surrounding communities.

ACADEMIC SUPPORT FOR RETURNING ATHLETES PROGRAM

The Academic Support for Returning Athletes Program was created in 1986 to support the academic efforts of former varsity student-athletes at the University of Maryland, College Park. In 1989, ASRAP was assigned by the President's Office to the Academic Achievements Program and enrolled 40 students that year. As a member of the National Consortium for Academics and Sports (NCAS), the University of Maryland is committed to assisting its former athletes with degree completion. A key component of the program is community outreach. Each returning student completes a "workship" that allows the cost of tuition and fees to be exchanged for community services with youth. In 2002, ASRAP moved into the ASCDU.
